SUMMARY

Recruiter with over a decade hiring for SaaS and technology companies, focused on engineering, AI/ML, and data roles alongside executive and GTM searches. I've led technical hiring from individual contributor engineers through VP-level leadership, working directly with engineering and business leaders on where to find talent and how to evaluate it.

I work well in lean teams — the kind where one recruiter owns both the strategy conversations with leadership and the day-to-day execution of getting people hired.
